

Congressman Helm Dies In Mississippi Great Shock To Host of Friends When Wire Comes From His Wife Monday Morning

Telephonic communication from Stanford Monday morning gave the sad information to his host of friends that Congressman Harvey Helm had died Sunday night at Columbus, Mississippi. Details were not given as to the cause of his death. His wife merely wired to relatives at Stanford that he was dead and she was returning to his home at Stanford with the remains.

Particulars of the death of the Congressman were not given in the telegram which Mrs. Helm sent Monday morning. She merely said:

"Harvey died last night. Will start home with body Monday night."

It is believed that his illness must have been short and death sudden, for he was in Washington, D. C., Thursday and had evidently run down to Columbus, to look after matters connected with the plantation he had bought there.

It is understood that Congressman Helm had been in poor health for some time but none of his friends thought for a moment that he was in a serious condition. His death will cause a genuine shock all over the Eighth Congressional district, in which he was very popular.

It is understood that he was in Mississippi inspecting a large plantation which he recently purchased there and to which he planned to go to make his home at the end of his term next year. Immediately after the last election, Helm announced that he would retire from Congress at the end of the term for which he had just been re-elected. It would have been his seventh term or 14 years that he would have served as representative from this district. He had never known defeat, having always proven one of the most remarkable campaigners that Kentucky politics had developed in the past quarter of a century.

Harvey Helm had many warm admirers and friends in Madison and always received a strong vote in this end of the district. He attended old Central University here and had many school and personal friends who always "went to the front" for him and saw that his interests were taken care of at election time.

The deceased congressman was about 50 years of age. He was born in Boyle county, the son of Harvey Helm, and a member of an old and prominent family in Kentucky history. He moved with his parents to Lincoln county when young and had made Stanford his home ever since. He was trained for the bar, and after serving a term as a member of the legislature from Lincoln was elected county attorney of Lincoln for several terms, going thence to congress. He has often been called the "luckiest man in politics." His first successful advent into congressional politics came at the time the lamented Dick Miller, of Madison, seemed to have the nomination won. Mr. Miller was taken suddenly ill and died; and Judge John W. Hughes, of Mercer and Hon. William Jennings Price, of Boyle, other candidates, also became ill, and Helm stepped in and won the nomination and election and had been invincible ever since in every campaign in which he had opposition. Once in congress, his handshaking and mixing qualities stood him in good stead. He developed into a good speaker in the congressional halls and on the hustings and stood high in democratic ranks at the capital. He was a particular friend of Speaker Champ Clark. Helm was chairman of the House Committee on the Census and had other important committee assignments. He stood valiantly by President Wilson during the trying times of the war and was ever at his post of duty except when ill health prevented.

Congressman Helm was last in this city a few days before the last November election. At that time he addressed a small gathering of democratic workers on the issues of the senatorial campaign, and urged with all his vigor that everything possible be done to secure the election of Governor Stanley as senator, in order that the President might have a democrat from Kentucky to assist in carrying out his administrative policies during the reconstructive days following peace which was then in sight.

About two years ago, Mr. Helm was married to Miss Mary Bruce, of Stanford, who was postmistress of Stanford at that time. They had no children. He is also survived by two sisters, Mrs. Walton, of Cincinnati, and Miss Lettie Helm, of Washington and Stanford.

No information has yet been received, it is understood, as to funeral arrangements. It is thought that, of course, he will be buried at Stanford. He was a member of the Presbyterian church and of the Masonic lodge at Stanford.

CONGRESSMAN HARVEY HELM, WHO DIED SUNDAY NIGHT

Republican Senator Favors League of Nations

(By Associated Press)
Washington, March 3—After Senator Sherman, of Illinois, had delivered an address in the Senate today attacking the League of Nations and President Wilson, Senator McCumber, of North Dakota, a republican member of the Foreign Relations Committee, took the floor and urged the United States to become a party to the League for preserving world peace. Senator Sherman called the League "Pandora's box, full of evils," which would empty upon the American people the aggregate calamities of the world."

Congress Winding Up

(By Associated Press)
Washington, March 3—Congress struggled today to put through a limited legislative program the leaders believed possible to complete before adjournment tomorrow and finally abandoned numerous others. Both Houses prepared to remain in continuous session until the final gavel falls tomorrow. The leaders agreed there is no hope of passing the army and navyundry civil and agricultural appropriation bills. The victory of the liberty loan bill made it ready for the President's signature. It passed early Sunday morning.

Great Mule Market In Richmond Monday

Not in several years has a mule market on a court day been as big as it is today. They are here from a dozen counties and while high, buyers are getting good ones. A tremendous crowd is in town and trading is brisk in all lines. Both of the stock yards have a good run of cattle, and March court is proving one of the best of the year.

Bowen G. Fox, of Danville, had bought a dozen mules up to noon, four horses and two mares, and paid from $175 to $200 for them.

B. Frank Robinson, also of Boyle, was also in the market for the right kind and he bought mules as follows up to shortly after noon.

One 6-year-old from Brack Maupin, for $1775.

Three from C. W. White for $525.

One from Mr. Ream for $175.

A pair from John Evans for $475.

No More Dry Laws Now

(By Associated Press)

Washington, March 3—Bulletin—The Senate Judiciary Committee today agreed to take no action on legislation to enforce war time prohibition which becomes effective July 1st. The Committee decided there was chance for the passage of pending bills at this session.

Penalties for violation of the law are carried by the prohibition act itself, which was passed as an amendment to the food production bill. Prohibition leaders contend more specific legislation is needed to insure its proper enforcement although its absence will not prevent nation wide prohibition becoming effective.

Huns Attack Poles Again

(By Associated Press)

Posen, March 3—Bulletin—Germans after three days comparative quiet, resumed their attack all along the line upon the Poles, today according to reports from the Polish-erman frontiers.

Colyer Had No Insurance

His friends regret to know that Col. Hugh H. Colyer had no insurance whatever on his splendid farm house that burned down at his place on the Speedwell pike, about noon Saturday. Col. Colyer said that he valued the place at about $5,000 or $6,000, and he did not carry any protection on it. He has no idea how the blaze started. Mr. Chrisman, who has the place rented, was in town with his family at the time the blaze was discovered, and nothing could be done to save either the house or Mr. Chrisman's household goods.

GOES TO TRIAL AT JACKSON

Deputy U. S. Marshal J. M. Elliott came here this morning and took Ernest Stone to Jackson to be tried in federal court on a charge of breaking into the postoffice at Fox, Ky., Estill county. He is said to have obtained a sum of money and has been confined in jail here awaiting trial.

KILLING AT CRAB ORCHARD SUNDAY

Jealousy Said To Have Been At Quarrel Between Young Men Results In Fatal Shooting.

Court day visitors from Lincoln county today told of a killing near Crab Orchard Sunday. Jealousy is said to have been at the bottom of a quarrel between two young men, Craben Parrish Thompson and Pate King Jr., which culminated in gun play and the death of young King, and severe injuries to his brother, Sam K. Thompson, who is 18 years old, fled. Sheriff H. C. Baughman and Deputy Sheriff Robert Lewis took up the search for him but had not apprehended him, according to last reports.

Peace Conference Wants To Do People's Will, Says Wilson

(By Associated Press)

Washington, March 3—At the opening of the White House conference of Governors and Mayors on peace time business and labor problems today, President Wilson promised the federal government would consider itself the servant of states, municipalities and counties in solving readjustment problems and would perform its duty guided by suggestions of the conference.

The President hoped the conference would assume a wide range, including discussion of means of restoring labor conditions to normal as soon as possible, "and to effecting such fresh locations of labor and industry as circumstances may make necessary."

Touching the peace conference, he said the conferees at Paris regarded themselves only as servants of about 700,000,000 people of the world and not their masters. He said consequently the conference is "anxious to keep in close sympathy with the peoples they represent to find out how we can best assist in making their lives what they wish them to be by giving them the opportunity they ought to have."

Secretary of Labor Wilson, who will preside at the opening session, told the conference the recent strikes in Butte, Lawrence, and other places were not industrial economic disputes but the result of deliberate, organized attempts to establish a soviet government in the United States.

Huns To Be Hedged Off

House Burns At Berea

News was brought down from Berea this afternoon that the handsome residence of Bose Moore there was burned to the ground this morning. Just how the blaze started is not known. It is said that Mr. Moore had no insurance on the residence which was a splendid one, and his loss will perhaps reach $5,000 or $6,000.

Always see L. P. Evans, the Insurance man of Richmond, before you lose your home. He can keep you safely protected with one of his strong policies.

Don't forget the lecture of Dr. Homer W. Carpenter at the Methodist church tonight.

A report seems to have been started that we have sold out. We do not know who took it upon themselves to start such a report. Nevertheless, we wish to advise that it is absolutely false. We are still here and expect to stay, so long as our good friends and patrons want the best Coal mined and their Money's worth in what they buy. Remember we are still in business and have no thoughts of selling and have for you all the Red Comet Coal you want. If there was a Better Coal Mined we would have it for our customers.

LANCASTER PUTS UP $60,000 FOR WAREHOUSE

Tobacco Growers of Garrard Want a Market At Home To Sell Weed Says John Farra, Here Today

Lancaster is sure to have a loose leaf tobacco warehouse, according to John M. Farra, a prominent farmer of Garrard, who was in Richmond Monday. Mr. Farra says that the progressive business men of that city have already subscribed $60,000 for the purpose and they have been assured that they can get the buyers from the big factories next season, by which time they expect to have their house under operation.

Mr. Farra said that Garrard is the greatest tobacco county in the Burley district, and that its growers feel that they should not have to haul so far to the Richmond and Danville and Lexington markets.

Business men of Stanford, which is ten miles southwest of Lancaster, also have a movement on foot to secure a warehouse there, but well posted tobacco men say both towns cannot secure buyers, due to their proximity and it is undoubtedly a question of which gets the money in hand first or gets its house built first.

Rhode Island Red Fanciers Hold Exhibition At Berea

The Berea Rhode Island Red Poultry Association had a most interesting exhibit of this popular breed there February 14th, with quite a number of enthusiastic exhibitors with 98 birds shown.

L. E. Weaver, Extension Poultry Specialist, from Lexington, served as Judge. He said that it was a real hard task to decide as to the best so many birds. There were five capons exhibited by Dr. M. M. Robinson. These birds caused quite a bit of interest and brought up many questions and will bring about the practice of castrating more birds this spring.

The premium money was put by the Berea banks and the Rhode Island Red Poultry Association. The following were winners:

Best pen consisting of one cock, and four hens—1st, Mrs. R. C. Coomer, Speedwell; no second or third entries.

Best cock and four pullets—1st, Mrs. R. C. Coomer, Speedwell; 2nd, Mrs. J. H. Gentry, Speedwell; 3rd, Mrs. Luther Todd, Coyle.

Best cock—1st, Wm. Carl Hunt, Berea; 2nd, Mrs. J. H. Gentry, Speedwell; 3rd, Mrs. R. C. Coomer, Speedwell.

Best cockerel—1st, S. P. Caudill, Conway; 2nd, S. P. Caudill, Conway; 3rd, Mrs. Luther Todd, Coyle.

Best hen—1st, Mrs. J. H. Gentry, Speedwell; 2nd, Mrs. R. C. Coomer, Speedwell; 3rd, Mrs. Luther Todd, Coyle.

Best pullet—1st, Mrs. J. H. Gentry, Speedwell; 2nd, Mrs. R. C. Coomer, Speedwell; 3rd, Mrs. R. C. Coomer, Speedwell.

The show was a creditable one and the association expects to put on full and complete show next fall. There were a number of pure-bred Rhode Island Red roosters sold at this show. The slogan for the association is "Paint the County Red."

Here, There, Everywhere

Friends are extending sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Reed Jett, whose little child is suffering with pneumonia. The condition of the little one is alarming, and every medical attention is being given to relieve the sufferings.

Mr. J. H. O'Brien has purchased the John Doty residence on West Main street and will erect a beautiful home on the corner lot. It is understood that he paid $4,000 for the place. Mrs. O'Brien will continue to make her residence this year in the old home.

Mr. Jesse Bowman was given the contract of building several rooms and a sleeping porch to the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Evans on Oak street.

Contractors are running to complete the home of Mrs. Robert Miller on Lancaster avenue which was badly burned in a recent fire. The home is being remodelled with attractive bungalow effect and is quite an improvement over the old dwelling.

The sale of farm mares owned and brought here by Col. J. H. Jordan, Saturday, was held at Bob Walker's stable on Water street, found a number of buyers, who were anxious to get animals for their spring plowing. Col. Walker cried the sale in his jolly auctioneering manner and good prices were realized.

A picture of the a French orphan girl adopted by the French Mission Circle of the First Presbyterian church has been received by the society, and was shown at the Sabbath School on Sunday. The likeness of a little orphan boy which the school has adopted, is expected this week, and they will be framed and placed in the Sunday School room.

A standard make typewriter for sale at this office. In splendid condition. In answering this adv. call for W.

Dr. J. W. Weber, the foot specialist is in town today, and was a caller at Daily Register office.

Mrs. W. H. Shanks, of Stanford, is suffering from a second attack of flu, her friends and relatives here will regret to learn.

Dr. J. B. Perkins, a prominent dentist of Stanford, is very low with influenza.

Mrs. W. H. Tribble, of Stanford, was called to the bedside of her father at Maysville, last week.

James Pickett Tribble, manager of the Cumberland Telephone and Telegraph Company, at Stanford, was over Sunday to consult with local manager H. P. Harris. He was accompanied here by Wallace Singleton, who has just returned from France, where he was with the 83rd division, at Le Mans, when the armistice was signed.

Joseph Schneider, representative from Bowling Green in the legislature was tried in Logan circuit court for bringing liquor into dry territory and acquitted. The News says Mr. Schneider had three barrels of liquor stored in Louisville to keep from paying a special government tax of three dollars and twenty cents, he had the liquor shipped to Hopkinsville. Last Saturday he motored to that city in his truck and was returning here with it in the open to store it in his cellar. When he reached Auburn he was arrested.

Dr. R. L. Clark, optician, has sold his half interest in the firm of Taylor & Clark, and Mr. Taylor will continue the business in the Dixie Inn. Dr. Clark will spend most of his time on the road, but will be in his office over Major Wells' grocery store on Second street to his patrons on Saturday and Monday of each week.

Noah Bray, of Bourbon county, purchased a farm in Spencer county, containing 218 acres for which he paid $30,000. The farm is highly improved, having a two-story brick residence which cost $16,000, two tobacco barns etc. It is a river bottom farm, located within a mile of Taylorsville.

E. C. Rupard, 46, of Clark county, died at Lexington.

Geo. Kohlhaas, a tailor of Winchester, died last week.

Members of the Fayette county sheriff's official family had a "dog killing time" late Friday afternoon, when 38 dogs were executed. They had been picked up promiscuously around town wearing no honored dog's insignia. The dog tax law requires all dogs to wear a registered tag which applies to all dogs—both city and county.

Died In New Mexico

A telegram was received by friends here Monday announcing the death of Mrs. Richard W. Boulware, at Tucuman, N. M. Mrs. Boulware was before her marriage, Miss Mahal Martin, daughter of Dr. Martin, of this city, and made her home at Kingston for a number of years.

EATS HEARTY MEAL OF MEAT AND POTATOES

Appetite and Strength Returns to Lexington Man Since Taking Meritone

"I eat a hearty meal of meat and potatoes and really enjoy it, since taking Meritone," said Joe Piper, of 156 East Third street, Lexington.

"I had no appetite and could hardly eat anything. As a result I thus began losing my strength."

"My strength kept going down and down and I finally got so weak that it tired me out to walk any distance."

Helped by Meritone

"Finally I began taking Meritone, and am now on my fourth bottle and I can honestly say that Meritone has helped me."

"I really get hungry now and enjoy a hearty meal of meat and potatoes. My strength has rapidly returned and I feel much better in every way."

"Meritone is a good medicine and I feel that I can recommend it."

Meritone is the new tonic of real merit that many people are taking to build up a weakened and run down system. Meritone is also recommended for such disorders of the system as stomach, liver and kidney trouble, sleeplessness, or lack of appetite, or to combat catarrh or rheumatism.

Meritone is sold in Richmond by H. L. Perry and Son.

Native of Doyleville Dies Suddenly In Winchester

Jasper Walden, member of the Winchester city council, died suddenly Friday night of heart failure. He had been in ill health for some time of Bright's disease, but was not thought to be in immediate danger.

Mr. Walden was watchman at the C. & O. crossing in Winchester. He was born in Doyleville, Madison county, 60 years ago, being a son of John and Lucinda Walden. He was a man of upright character, a devoted husband and father, and a faithful city official. He is survived by his second wife, who was Miss Lizzie Rush, and one son, Venable Walden, and two daughters by a former marriage, Mrs. Hugh Peyton, of Henderson, and Miss Cora Walden. Mr. Walden is also survived by the following brothers and sisters: Talbot Walden of St. Louis; Shelby I. Walden, of Covington; John Willie Walden, of Uniontown, Tenn.; Mrs. Mattie Moore of Middletown, O.; Mrs. Jennie Jones and Miss Josie Walden, of Winchester.

Last Game

Eastern will play her last basketball game tomorrow evening with the Union College of Barbourville at the Normal gym at 8 o'clock. Come out and root for the home team and help win the last game. Union defeated Eastern at Barbourville, by a score of 32 to 22. The Eastern five are going to try hard to win the last game on her floors.

S. A. T. C. War Mothers Eligible

Mrs. H. C. Jasper of the Madison county chapter of War Mothers, has received a letter from State Mother, Mrs. R. B. Hutchcraft, of Paris, to the effect that S. A. T. C. mothers are eligible as members, but that the question of stepmothers has not yet been decided upon by the national board. The limit for charter members has been extended to April 6th. Mrs. Jasper is also informed. All local chapters have been urged to send in their full enrollment by April 1st if possible, so that an estimate can be made as to the representation to which Kentucky is entitled at the national convention of War Mothers.

Dr. Carpenter Brings Big Message Tonight

A treat is in store for those who attend the number of the Methodist lecture course tonight. Dr. Homer W. Carpenter, just back from the great convention of the League to Enforce Peace, at Atlanta, will deliver the address and will bring a virile message from the gathering which considered the League of Nations, to which President Wilson is committed at the Peace Conference. Dr. Carpenter was one of Kentucky's representatives at this distinguished gathering at Atlanta. Former President Taft was one of the principal speakers, and Dr. Carpenter will give his impressions of the great movement which is of such world-wide importance, tonight, first hand and fresh from the convention.

The tobacco market at Danville closes March 6th.

Disastrous Fire In Lee County Oil Fields

W. S. Reece, the well known oil and royalty dealer was here Sunday from Winchester. He said that a very disastrous fire occurred in the Lee county fields, when four 250 barrel tanks of oil and various equipment burned up on the 14 acre tract known as the "Shoestring," belonging to F. D. Hart Jr., of Middlesboro, and others. The damage is estimated at $10,000, or perhaps more.

The origin of the fire is supposed to have been due to the fact that one of the tanks had become connected up to run oil and instead the pumper backed the oil up in the tank causing it to run over to the boiler. The petroleum immediately caught fire and in a very few minutes a terrible fire was raging. Spectators report flames shot 300 feet in the air. Nothing but the lack of wind and the concerted efforts of a crew of workmen who partially smothered the conflagration by shoveling dirt on it, prevented the flames spreading over the surrounding country.

In addition to the loss of the tanks and oil the rig on the lease was badly damaged, the boiler, belt, engine, cable and small tools being ruined.

On this property there are two splendid wells and another drilling. In addition to the material loss the operators will suffer from delay in getting things back in shape to continue operations.

News from the Breathitt field is to the effect on Long's Creek, Baker and Hedrick are down 400 feet on their test in Breathitt county.

Northwest of Crockettville parties are preparing to sink a test. A rig is also moving to Miller's Creek to drive a well 2,000 feet north of where Pratt and associates sunk a test some time ago.

On the Miller heirs tract the Breath-Oil and Gas Company have struck 300,000 feet of gas at the test now being drilled in. They also have a nice show of oil but will not complete the well for several days.

In Lee county on the Simpson Crabtree lease the Hart Oil Company is now drilling its fourth well. No. 3 is in and shot and rated around 850 barrels.

Mr. Ballard Says Los Angeles Doesn't Look Good

Mr. J. W. Ballard, who is in southern California during the winter for his health, writes the Daily Register to change his paper from San Diego, to Los Angeles, where he will be located for some time now. He says: "This is a great state—grows more fruit of all kinds, and vegetables and flowers than all the others—but not best place on earth, for on Sunday they are doing all kinds of work. You wouldn't think it Sunday. There are more hold-ups than any place I ever was in. I haven't been held up yet. I am going to get out soon. This is, Los Angeles I am speaking about. I like the climate but not their ways. I might get used to it, but it don't look good to me. I enclose a clipping. Respect, J. W. BALLARD.

The clipping Mr. Ballard encloses says in part:

The developments during the week in real estate matters prove conclusively that a remarkable movement has started in Los Angeles suburban tracts, orange and lemon orchard and alfalfa lands. The locations favored are within easy reach of Los Angeles. The purchasers are principally well to do farmers and business men from the Central States. They investigate carefully, make heavy cash payments, and almost immediately start improvements. It is a home buying movement.

Many sales have been reported from Imperial and Palo Verde Valleys; Tulare, Kern and Fresno counties, and the Paso Robles almond district. Railroad officers estimate number of tourists now in Los Angeles and vicinity at 100,000. Incoming trains are still crowded, extra sections of many trains being necessary. It seems certain the rush will continue later this season than in previous years.

At the T. P. Reed sale in Boyle county, corn sold for $10.10; cows, $85 to $152; heifers with first calf, $75 to $95; five heifers to be fresh, $68 to $85; three yearling heifers, $52.50; sows and pigs, $72.50 to $90; 90-pound shoats, 16 cents per pound; mules from $150 to $225; horses from $91 to $175, and hay at $27 a ton.

Record prices for hogs were secured Monday by Clifford Mahan, of near Osborne, O., who sold 50 for $11,230, an average of $224.65 per head.
